“ Linda, Laura and Richard, I'm so sorry for your loss, thinking of you and all of your family. Just the other day I came across the pillow case you embroidered my name on in Katakana, with Kirk's help I think Laura, for my birthday one year....My mom remembers Kirk's appetite for books when he was young, being one of the reasons she made a rule about maximum number of books to have out at a time from her little media center ;-). Holding you in our prayers.
