She began a career at the UNMC College of Dentistry, serving students and faculty as a secretary for 35 years. She was a devoted mother, an honorary member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, and a lover of horses and dogs over the years. Always a Husker fan, she enjoyed the football games because they always meant fun with family members and friends.

She is survived by her three daughters Brenda Wagner, Jolene John-Beckstrom (Robert) of Lincoln, and Lindy Marchese (Matt); 2 grandsons Cash and Cason Marchese of Dakota Dunes, SD; sisters Beverly Hulsebusch (Michael) of Lincoln, and Shirley Nelson (Charles) of Central City; many close nieces and nephews and cousins.

Preceded in death by Dwain, her parents; sister Sharon Sitzman, and nephew Michael Sitzman, both of Culbertson.

Memorials to the family for future designation to Jan's charities. Arrangements are with Roper and Sons Funeral Home, 4300 O Street, Lincoln and Solt-Wagner Funeral Home in Central City.

“ I graduated with Janet from Central City High School in 1963. Several years later Janet and her husband Dwain welcomed me into their home in California for several weeks when I first moved and settled there. I would sometimes babysit and care for Brenda and Jolene in return for Janet and Dwain's kindness. In recent years we kept in touch through email. Janet always shared very heartwarming and humorous messages. The last time I saw Janet was at our 50th high school reunion when we talked endlessly in the parking lot long after everyone had left. I was so shocked and saddened to learn of her passing. How I will miss her smiles, sunshiny spirit, and loving, generous heart for family and friends. And if I'm fortunate to attend a future high school reunion, I will miss sharing a huge hug with her. My thoughts and condolences are with all of you--Brenda, Jolene, Lindy, Cash, Carson, Beverly, Shirley and many other family members and friends. We love and appreciate Janet's love of life and her love for the people she shared life with her. Thank you, Janet, for your enduring friendship.
