

Patricia Jean Stott

August 30, 1945 - June 5, 2019

Pat was born on August 30, 1945 to Merle and Margaret (Holden) Work in Brush, Colorado. She grew up in Weldona, Colorado and then at sixteen, she moved to Fort Morgan, Colorado. In High School, Pat loved being part of the band. She played the clarinet, but was asked to play the oboe and bassoon as well. She graduated from Fort Morgan High School in 1963. Pat then moved to Central City, Nebraska after she was married. She worked at the Ordinance Plant in Grand Island, Leon Plastics in Alda, did babysitting at her home for awhile. She cooked at Nite and Day Café, Central Café, Central City Care Center, Litzenberg Memorial County Hospital, and Merrick Manor. She had been at Merrick Manor for 13 years before her declining health forced her to retire in 2008.

Pat enjoyed going out to coffee with friends, decorating outside for Christmas and especially loved yard work. She took great pride in her yard looking nice. She had a lifetime love for animals and even collected stuffed animals. She enjoyed jumble words and word searches. She was also great at solving crossword puzzles, no matter how hard. Her favorite Television show was Dancing With The Stars. Her favorite movies were Dirty Dancing and A Chorus Line. She loved country music and oldies. She also loved the Rocky Mountains.

She is survived by one son- Chris Stott of Central City, NE; one daughter-

Jeanne Stott of Central City, NE; one sister- Kay and Ken Coffin of Fort Morgan, CO; nephew- Alan and Laura Coffin and their children- Rece, Drew, and Ella of Haxtun, CO; several nieces, nephews, and cousins; her beloved dog- Evie, her constant companion and entertainment.

She was preceded in death by her parents; one brother- Stephen Work.
