“ My Uncle Rodney was so much fun when I was growing up. One of my fondest memories was when he would tie the sled up to the back of the car. My brother and I would get on the sled and off we'd go out of the driveway and onto the road. Sometimes he'd put us in the ditch instead just to be onrey. Another time I got to go for my first ride in a convertible. I can still see it, the top down, the wind blowing through our hair and the radio playing Hang on sloopy as loud as the radio would go. My ultimate experience was when he brought home our new aunt. I thought how cool, we have another playmate. Uncle Rodney thank you for the memories and the gift of Aunt Sandy. Until we meet again. Love you, Shelley.
